

N.K. Black

Project Manager | The Hollo Podcast

Mission Statement: Transforming creative operations into data-driven ecosystems that scale impact, efficiency, and audience engagement.

Driving digital transformation through data, AI, and agile project leadership.

Professional Overview

Seasoned Project Manager with demonstrated success leading The Hollo Podcast’s digital transformation through AI integration, data-driven strategy, and operational efficiency. Delivered measurable growth through Generative AI, predictive budgeting, and agile management frameworks—achieving a 15% listener engagement increase, 20% retention improvement, and 25% production efficiency gain within six months.

Key Achievements

Achievement	Metric	Timeline	Outcome
Listener Engagement	+15%	Jan–Jun 2024	Increased retention via AI optimization
Production Efficiency	+25%	2024	Reduced turnaround time using workflow automation
Budget Management	10% under budget	2024	Predictive cost control and vendor optimization

Strategic Capabilities

- Project Leadership (Agile, Waterfall, Hybrid)
- AI & Automation Integration (ChatGPT, Claude, DeepSeek)
- Stakeholder Engagement & Risk Mitigation
- Predictive Analytics & Performance Metrics
- Content Strategy & Digital Transformation

Core Tools Summary

Category	Tools	Proficiency
Project Management	Jira, Asana, Smartsheet	Intermediate
Data & Analytics	Power BI, SQL, Python	Beginner
AI & Automation	ChatGPT-4, Claude, DeepSeek	Intermediate
Creative & Production	Figma, Canva	Intermediate

Business Impact Summary

Through strategic implementation of AI analytics, predictive budgeting, and agile frameworks, The Hollo Podcast achieved measurable audience and operational growth. These initiatives positioned the podcast as a benchmark for innovation within the digital media space—driving sustainable engagement, cost efficiency, and scalability for future expansion.